The Iraq War: In 1990 Iraq invaded Kuwait. Iraq lost the war. Iraq was expected to allow UN investigators into Iraq so they could see whether or not Iraq were building Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMDs), like nuclear weapons. By the early 2000s the leader of Iraq a man named Saddam Hussein, stopped letting the weapons inspectors in. Saddam Hussein also held political and religious views that were very different to America. Then 9/11 the terrorist attack on the Twin Towers happened. It was carried out by a terrorist group al-Qaeda. This led to greater fear that Iraq were building WMDs.

America along with other countries like Britain invaded Iraq to find out if they had been building WMDs and to remove Saddam Hussein from power. After several years of violence they were able to remove Hussein but they did not find any WMDs. Some people argue that America and the west invaded as Iraq has access to a huge amount of oil which is incredibly valuable.
